F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

This internship program is conducted in two separate one-month sections:

1. Field internship
2. Epidemiology internship

1. Field Internship: One month

In this section, field practice is conducted three days a week at District Health Directorates (İSM) and Family Health Centers (ASM), the number of which varies. Two days a week are allocated to seminars, discussions, statistical data analysis, and presentations of Family Health Center work reports within the department. In addition, interns participate in on-site seminars related to the work of the Provincial Health Directorate and the Public Health Directorate under the supervision of our faculty members. They also visit public health institutions such as the Public Health Laboratory, KETEM, Tuberculosis Control Dispensary, waste disposal, BASKI, Bigadiç Etibank Bor Madeni, and others related to public health.

Interns are being trained to better prepare for their profession. This training is being carried out in a structured manner to make the field adaptation training more efficient and effective. In line with the Ministry of Health's prototype proposal, a protocol is in effect between the Balıkesir Governor's Office and Balıkesir University. (Protocol on Cooperation by Establishing a Health, Education, and Research Region between the Balıkesir Governorate and Balıkesir University). During this period, a one-day workshop is also organized as preparation for the field research topic to be selected in the second period. The workshop topic is determined based on a subject previously identified and targeted by the interns, if any, or preferably a subject that has not been addressed before and could serve as a precursor to field research. Subtopics are prepared for the determined subject, and with the support of literature, they are distributed to half of the group to prepare presentations.

This section also Judicial Medical AD assistance is organized a hour a Judicial Medical Applications session .

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

Intern training in the Department of Pediatrics is conducted between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Between 8:45 a.m. and 9:30 a.m., a meeting is held with the faculty member responsible for interns to discuss practical and theoretical issues and patient care. Interns assigned to each department perform practical work with the relevant assistants or faculty members. Five days a week, interns visit patients in designated departments together with specialists. Each intern is on call at least 6 times a month during their internship.

Each intern performs the procedures outlined in the form prepared for the practical, skill, and application requirements in the relevant departments and completes at least 60% of the applications listed in Table-1. Each intern rotates through the pediatric emergency room, pediatric ward, and outpatient clinics (in all outpatient clinics on an internal rotation basis).

- 1) Skills that 6th-year students will acquire by the end of the internship:

1. Taking a medical history	17. Insertion of urinary catheter
2. Preparing files	18. Blood collection
3. Preparing discharge summaries	19. IV access
4. Ability to perform a complete physical examination	20. Vaccination and learning the schedule
5. Patient monitoring	21. Postmortem procedures (tracheal intubation and LP)
6. Patient presentation	22. LP monitoring
7. Evaluation of growth curves	23. ECG recording and evaluation
8. Temperature measurement and monitoring (oral, axillary, rectal)	24. Chest X-ray evaluation
9. Blood pressure measurement and assessment	25. Peripheral smear staining and evaluation
10. Ability to administer injections	26. Culture collection (throat, urine, blood, stool, etc.)
11. Ability to evaluate complete urinalysis	27. Ability to order treatment
12. Ability to administer fluid and electrolyte therapy	28. Ability to administer ORS treatment
13. Ability to prescribe medication for common illnesses	29. Ability to assess acid-base imbalance
14. Stool examination	30. Newborn assessment (eyes, umbilicus, and vitamin K)
15. PPD application and measurement	31. Maintaining airway patency (airway placement)
16. Insertion of a nasogastric tube

G. Seminars, case presentations, and literature reviews: Participates in seminars, case presentations, and literature reviews held twice a week

OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY DEPARTMENT (MED 6104)

A. Internship duration: 30 days (6 hours theoretical, 170 hours practical)

B. Training periods: As shown in the table at the beginning of the program.

C. Internship Location: Relevant units of Balıkesir University Hospital

D. Internship Supervisor: Assoc. Prof. Dr. Orkun ÇETİN

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

The aim of the internship is to ensure that the student applies the basic theoretical and practical knowledge acquired throughout the entire training period to correctly approach both obstetric and gynecological cases. In terms of content, it covers theoretical and practical training in history taking, physical examination, outpatient follow-up, inpatient follow-up, examination and treatment planning under the supervision of relevant faculty members and assistants in the Obstetrics and Gynecology department, outpatient clinic, and operating room, as well as gynecological and obstetric surgery and clinical training. During medical practice, they will always encounter obstetric cases involving normal antenatal care, identification and follow-up of high-risk pregnancies, labor monitoring, and normal vaginal deliveries, operative deliveries, and cesarean deliveries. They will participate in the identification, evaluation, and management of obstetric emergencies. They take the history of gynecological cases, perform a complete physical and pelvic examination, express their opinions on differential diagnosis and diagnosis, and use their theoretical knowledge in management. They use their theoretical and practical knowledge in the differential diagnosis of gynecological emergencies and gain practical knowledge by assisting in both emergency and elective gynecological surgeries. Our students are assigned to the delivery room in our clinic so that they can monitor labor, observe normal deliveries, and follow up on postpartum patients. Intern doctors will be on duty at our hospital every day of the week in order to recognize emergency gynecological and obstetric patients. These on-call duties will be performed no more than once every three days (four on-call shifts in 30 days). During these shifts, intern doctors will be assigned to faculty members in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Depending on the faculty member's work schedule, intern doctors will assist in practical applications such as outpatient clinics, surgeries, interventions, and labor monitoring in the delivery room. At the end of the internship, they will have completed the necessary theoretical and practical training to approach obstetric and gynecological cases encountered during primary care with the correct approach, make a differential diagnosis, reach a definitive diagnosis quickly, and perform emergency interventions.

Basic Medical Practices that 6th-year students will acquire at the end of the internship:

1. History taking - Level 4
2. Preparing medical records - Level 4
3. Preparing a discharge summary - Level 4
4. Conducting a comprehensive physical examination - Level 4
5. Patient monitoring - Level 4
6. Patient presentation - Level 4
7. Ability to establish an intravenous line - Level 3
8. Ability to administer IV fluid therapy - Level 3
9. Blood pressure measurement and assessment - Level 4
10. Ability to administer injections - Level 4
11. Ability to evaluate a complete urinalysis - Level 4
12. Ability to manage pre- and postoperative fluid and electrolyte therapy - Level 3
13. Ability to prescribe for common diseases - Level 3
14. Inserting a urinary catheter in female patients - Level 4
15. Catheter removal - Level 4
16. Monitoring drains - Level 3
17. Ability to remove a drain - Level 4
18. Ability to perform wound dressing - Level 4
19. Postoperative patient monitoring - Level 3
20. Blood draw - Level 4
21. ECG recording - Level 3
22. Ability to take cervical-vaginal cultures - Level 3
23. Ability to prepare treatment orders - Level 3
24. Ability to insert a speculum - Level 3
25. Learning to perform a Pap smear - Level 3
26. Ability to collect a smear from the cervix for HPV and cytological examination - Level 3
27. Preparing cervical smears - Level 3
28. Monitoring fetal anomaly screening - Level 3
29. Ability to assess the presenting part of the fetus and fetal heart rate - Level 3
30. Monitoring colposcopy - Level 3

31. Ability to assess uterine tone and perform uterine tone massage - Level 3
 32. Approach to a bleeding patient - Level 4
 33. Ability to perform primary suturing - Level 4

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

- 1) The purpose of the internship: To equip students with up-to-date medical knowledge in line with contemporary approaches in medical education, based on the theoretical and practical knowledge acquired during the training period, and to ensure they have problem-solving and good communication skills and can make quick and correct decisions in unexpected emergencies.
- 2) Internship objectives:
 - a. Teaching the distinction between emergency and non-emergency patients.
 - b. Teaching critical patient care and stabilization (airway, breathing, and circulation stabilization).
 - c. Teaching the diagnosis, differential diagnosis, and treatment of all emergency conditions.
 - d. Teaching basic procedures (urinary catheterization, N/G tube insertion, blood sampling, intubation, etc.).
- 3) Teaching strategies and working principles: Students will receive theoretical lessons every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 08:00 to 17:00 in the seminar room of the Department of Emergency Medicine at Balıkesir University Faculty of Medicine and/or at the patient's bedside during the Emergency Medicine internship. Practical training will be conducted under the supervision of faculty members at the Emergency Department of Balıkesir University Faculty of Medicine every Thursday and Friday between 08:00-17:00. Throughout the entire emergency department internship, each intern physician will be on duty for 24 hours every three days.

a. Intern physician internship skill list: At least 30 patients will be examined in terms of skills such as taking a history, performing a general and problem-oriented physical examination, measuring blood pressure, measuring body temperature, assessing vital signs, requesting appropriate laboratory and radiological examinations, evaluating emergency biochemical tests, preparing patient files, and keeping records.

b. Basic medical practices that must be performed at least once during the internship

By the end of the internship, they will have completed the necessary theoretical and practical training to approach emergency cases encountered during primary care with the correct differential diagnosis, reach a definitive diagnosis quickly, and perform emergency interventions.

Seminar topics: Each seminar presentation and discussion is theoretical in nature, and the training is equally distributed among the teaching staff.

Basic Life Support	Approach to impaired consciousness
Advanced Cardiac Life Support	Approach to poisoned patients
Acute coronary syndromes	Endocrine emergencies
Bradycardia-Tachycardia	16 Acid-base disorders
Approach to Chest Pain	COPD-Pulmonary thromboembolism
Approach to shortness of breath	Shock and Its Types
General approach to trauma patients	Headache-Dizziness
Head injuries	Seizures and Status Epilepticus
Cervical trauma	Hypertensive Emergencies
Thoracic trauma	Heat and Cold Emergencies
Abdominal trauma	Burns and Electric Shocks
Pelvic and extremity trauma	Snake-Scorpion and other arthropod bites

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

Purpose of the Internship: The aim is for Semester VI students to acquire basic knowledge and skills regarding the diagnosis, differential diagnosis, treatment, and referral practices of Mental Health and Disorders in primary care medical services.

Learning Objectives of the Internship (Expectations):

Be able to take a psychiatric history, perform a mental status examination, and assess the patient from a psychiatric perspective within the general medical practice within a holistic approach, identify psychopathologies, and perform differential diagnosis and treatment of psychiatric disorders they are likely to encounter frequently.

They should be able to adequately provide mental health services in primary care settings. To this end, they should:

They should be knowledgeable about the pharmacological treatment of mental illnesses and the side effects of treatments.

They should be able to recognize physical, cognitive, behavioral, and emotional symptoms that indicate impaired control of emotional responses.

Be able to provide education on stress management to patients and their families,

Be able to refer patients by understanding the relationship and coordination between primary, secondary, and tertiary mental health services

be able to select patients,

They should have sufficient knowledge about the psychophysiological effects of addictive substances,

They must have the ability to recognize, manage, and treat psychiatric emergency patients.

Intern Students' Working Principles (Responsibilities, Duties):

First-year residency students perform the same duties as research assistants. While performing these duties, they work under the supervision of a residency student or specialist and cannot perform any procedures or treatments on patients without the knowledge and supervision of their supervisors.

Working hours are the same as those of research assistants. Each intern adheres to the service rules throughout their working period. One intern per night will be on duty at the clinic/service, scheduled equally among them, including holidays, and will not continue working the day after their shift. Each intern will have at least 5 (five) shifts during their 1 (one) month Psychiatry internship.

On the first day, the responsible faculty member provides a brief theoretical overview covering AD introduction, taking medical history, interview techniques, preparing patient files, patient admission and discharge procedures, and records kept, as well as semiotics. Then, depending on the number of interns, they are divided into two separate units, outpatient clinic and clinic/ward, to work in rotation.

Intern Students Working in the Clinic/Ward:

They take the patient's history and examine them together with the research assistant, and record these in the patient's file.

Monitors patients under their care, requests tests, follows up on tests, enters results into the patient's file, and informs the research assistant.

Records observations about the patient on the daily observation sheet.

Intern Students Working in the Outpatient Clinic:

They are present in the outpatient clinic during outpatient clinic hours and evaluate the patient together with the research assistant.

They take the patient's history. They register the patient and request tests.

They participate in all visits, including research assistant visits.

They accompany the physician conducting the consultation during consultations.

Intern Training;

They participate in all AD educational activities (case presentation/discussion, article presentation, seminars, journal club, etc.).

They prepare and present a seminar on the following topics at the beginning of their internship, under the supervision of the responsible instructor.

and present them within the program.

Interns have the specialist student/expert who supervises them check that they have completed the activities specified in the activity logbook and participated in the activities at each stage, obtain their signature, and at the end of the internship, have the responsible faculty member sign it as well and submit it to the Department Secretary to be sent to the Dean's Office.

Seminar topics: Each seminar's presentation and discussion consists of 2 hours of theoretical training, and the training is equally among the faculty members.

Schizophrenia and other psychotic disorders

Depressive Disorders and Bipolar Disorders

Anxiety and somatoform disorders

Principles of psychopharmacology application

H. INTERNSHIP OBJECTIVES

1. Students of BAÜN Faculty of Medicine who choose the Elective Neurosurgery Internship are expected to remember, reinforce, and understand practical and applied knowledge related to the diagnosis, differential diagnosis, and treatment of congenital, traumatic, vascular, tumor, and movement disorder diseases of the central nervous system (CNS).

2. This internship aims to help students understand the principles of approaching neurosurgical emergencies and neurotraumatic (spinal and cranial) patients that they may encounter in their professional lives after graduation.
3. Additionally, the aim is to develop students' ability to perform necessary interventions and basic procedural techniques in emergency situations.

I. OBJECTIVES OF THE INTERNSHIP:

1. Recognizing and diagnosing conditions requiring emergency neurosurgical intervention in the emergency department.
2. Plan appropriate treatment at the primary care level for neurosurgical problems/diseases and explain referral criteria.
3. Explain neurosurgical emergencies and the principles of approach to these situations.
4. Performing initial intervention for neurosurgical emergencies and referring patients appropriately.
5. Explaining the timing of surgical treatment and emergency surgical options.
6. Explain first aid and intervention for patients with spinal and head trauma.
7. Be able to distinguish situations requiring referral in neurosurgical diseases.
 8. Ability to explain the mechanisms of disease formation related to neurosurgery.
 9. Being able to explain the clinical features and clinical approach principles (diagnosis, treatment, and prevention) of basic diseases related to neurosurgery.
10. Establishing good communication with patients and their relatives to obtain the patient's medical history, personal and family history, and medical history related to the nervous system.
 11. Performing a physical examination of the nervous system.
 12. Being able to evaluate the medical history and physical examination findings of a patient presenting with nervous system complaints and select the appropriate diagnostic methods/procedures in the correct order to guide diagnosis and treatment.
 13. Explain the basic diagnostic methods and procedures used in the diagnosis of nervous system diseases and interpret their results.
 14. Establish a preliminary diagnosis/diagnosis by evaluating the medical history, physical examination findings, and diagnostic test results of patients presenting with neurological complaints.
 15. Explain the importance of a multidisciplinary approach to neurosurgical problems.

STUDENTS' DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Before clinical/outpatient applications, they introduce themselves to the patient, inform them, and perform all medical procedures given by the relevant teaching staff.
2. Trainee physicians' attire in the workplace should be appropriate for healthcare professionals.
3. White physician coats and/or uniforms must be worn within the hospital.
4. During the internship period, it is important that they carefully fill out their personal internship records, have them signed, and submit them to the responsible faculty member at the end of the internship.
5. During their training, they must fulfill the tasks assigned to them, such as preparing articles, case presentations, and seminars.
6. Interns should not disclose information about the patient's medical condition and progress to the patient, their relatives, or third parties without the knowledge and supervision of the faculty member.
7. They act in accordance with the principles and rules of medical ethics and deontology during their practice.
8. They are familiar with the patient rights regulations and current health legislation and act accordingly.
9. They know the rights of patients and their relatives and act respectfully towards these rights. They keep all medical records relating to patients confidential and ensure that educational discussions relating to these records are conducted in accordance with the principles of confidentiality.
10. They must be aware of the regulations of the Faculty of Medicine, including the Balıkesir University Faculty of Medicine Education, Teaching, and Examination Regulations, and act accordingly.
11. As in all healthcare institutions, they must comply with the rules, regulations, and guidelines of the institution specified below.

- a. Infection control rules
- b. Rules regarding medical waste, household waste, and recyclable waste
- c. Radiation safety rules
- d. Rules related to employee health
- e. Patient safety rules
- f. Rules regarding sample collection, submission, request writing, consent, and similar procedures
- g. Fire and safety precautions
- h. Ethical and deontological rules

WORKING CONDITIONS:

1. Assigned candidate physicians are required to participate in outpatient services, inpatient treatment and follow-up, and surgeries they are invited to during their internship period. They are also required to participate in all academic activities conducted at the BAÜN Department of Neurosurgery.
2. Every Friday between 9:00-10:00 a.m., they attend seminars included in the training program, and at the end of the internship, each internship group gives a seminar on a topic determined by the department.

ELECTIVE INTERNSHIP - DERMATOLOGY AND VENEREAL DISEASES (TIP6113)

- A. Internship duration: 15 days (40 hours theoretical, 48 hours practical)
B. Training periods: As indicated in the table at the beginning of the program.
C. Internship Location: Dermatology Clinic and Department, Balıkesir University Hospital
D. Internship Supervisor: Prof. Dr. Arzu KILIÇ
E. Internship Steering Committee:

Course Code and Name	Instructors	Theoretical	Practical
DERMATOLOGY	Prof. Dr. Arzu Kılıç (Internship Supervisor)	13	16
Theoretical: 40	Dr. Pelin Hızlı, Assistant Professor	13	16
Practical: 48	Dr. Assistant Professor İlkey Can	14	16
Total: 88

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

During their internship, interns will be assigned to the ward and outpatient clinic; they will receive basic practical skills and theoretical training related to skin and venereal diseases. At the beginning of the internship, interns will be introduced to the outpatient clinic, clinic, and other departments belonging to the Department, as well as the activities carried out there, and their duties and responsibilities will be explained to them. Intern doctors will thus acquire practical skills. They are responsible for performing the duties assigned by the Department within the scope of education, training, and health services (all types of hospital services, surgery, laboratory work, case presentations, conferences, seminars, articles and scientific meetings, research, health education, and similar activities). They are also expected to develop their theoretical knowledge by participating in training programs.

G. Seminar topics:

Each seminar consists of a 2-hour theoretical presentation and discussion, and the training is equally distributed among the faculty members.

1. Approach to Clinical Dermatology
2. Papulosquamous Diseases
3. The most common malignant neoplasms of the skin
4. Superficial bacterial and fungal infections of the skin
5. Viral infectious diseases of childhood
6. Clinical presentation and treatment of herpes zoster
7. Approach and treatment of patients with leishmaniasis
8. Autoimmune bullous diseases of the skin
9. Approach to the patient with acute urticaria
10. Approach to patients presenting with pruritus
11. Recognition of Clinical Findings in Behçet's Disease

ELECTIVE INTERNSHIP – INFECTIOUS DISEASES AND CLINICAL MICROBIOLOGY (TIP6114)

Internship duration: 15 days (0 hours theoretical, 88 hours practical)

Training periods: As indicated in the table in the annual course program.

Internship location: Relevant departments of Balıkesir University Hospital

Internship Supervisor: Dr. Enes DALMANOĞLU, Assistant Professor

Internship Oversight Committee: All Faculty Members

The distribution of courses among faculty members is listed in the table.

OBJECTIVES OF THE INTERNSHIP

This internship aims to provide students with general knowledge about approaches to systemic infections and to enable them to diagnose infectious diseases. It also aims to equip students with skills, experience, and practical abilities regarding general approaches to infectious diseases.

INTERNSHIP OBJECTIVES

1	Ability to connect theoretical knowledge required in clinical practice with clinical applications.
2	Being able to explain the precautions that need to be taken to prevent infections.
3	Being able to monitor certain chronic infectious diseases.
4	Diagnosing acute infectious diseases and administering initial treatment.
5	Ability to explain the diagnosis and treatment of common infectious diseases.

INTERNSHIP ACHIEVEMENTS

1	Establish connections between theoretical knowledge required in clinical practice and clinical applications.
2	Explain the precautions that need to be taken to prevent infections.

3	Can monitor certain chronic infectious diseases.
4	Can diagnose and provide initial treatment for acute infectious diseases.
5	Can explain the diagnosis and treatment of common infectious diseases.

BASIC MEDICAL PRACTICE LEARNING LEVEL*
Learning Level	Description
1	Knows how to perform the procedure and explains the results to the patient and/or their relatives
2	Performs the procedure in accordance with the guidelines/instructions in an emergency situation
3	Performs the procedure* in uncomplicated, common situations/cases
4	Performs the procedure, including in complex situations/cases

*Indicates the minimum level of performance that a physician graduating from medical school should demonstrate during basic medical practice, and therefore the minimum level of learning. It is determined separately for each skill/procedure in the minimum level list. During the training period, faculties ensure that each student is able to perform the relevant medical practice at the specified minimum level.

 Conducts preliminary assessment/evaluation, creates and implements necessary plans, and informs patients and their relatives/community about the process and results.

	BASIC MEDICAL PRACTICES	LEVEL
1	Preparing patient files	4
2	Ability to take a general and problem-oriented history	4
3	Assessment of general condition and vital signs	4
4	Ability to request rational laboratory and imaging tests	4
5	Ability to apply principles of working with biological materials	4
6	Ability to collect biological samples from patients	3
7	Ability to complete the request form for laboratory examination	4
8	Ability to collect the laboratory sample under appropriate conditions and deliver it to the laboratory	4
9	Ability to perform decontamination, disinfection, sterilization, and antisepsis	4
10	Ability to interpret screening and diagnostic examination results	3
11	Ability to use a microscope (prepare and examine stained and unstained specimens)	4
12	Ability to perform and evaluate a complete urinalysis (including microscopic examination)	4
13	Ability to perform and evaluate bleeding time measurement	2
14	Ability to collect samples for culture	4
15	Ability to prepare stool smears and perform microscopic examination	3
16	Ability to insert a nasogastric tube	3
17	Ability to establish an intravenous line	3
18	Hand washing	4
19	Ability to administer IM, IV, SC, and ID injections	4
20	Ability to insert a urinary catheter	4
21	Ability to measure blood pressure	4

22	Ability to read and evaluate direct radiographs	3
23	Ability to organize emergency assistance	2
24	Ability to take preventive measures against healthcare-associated infections	3
25	Ability to take measures to prevent infections in communal living areas	4
26	Ability to combat infectious diseases in the community	3
27	Ability to apply the principles of rational drug use	4
28	Ability to plan treatment and write prescriptions	4
29	Ability to prepare a treatment refusal document	4
30	Ability to properly prepare medications to be administered	4
31	Ability to administer oral, rectal, vaginal, and topical medications	3
32	Ability to prepare health reports in accordance with current regulations	3
33	Reporting and documenting diseases and conditions that are legally required to be reported	4

34	Preparing discharge summaries	4
35	Ability to refer patients appropriately	4
36	Providing patients and their relatives with sufficient information about the disease in a way they can understand	4
37	Providing the patient and/or their relatives with accurate and sufficient information about possible interventions/treatment options, obtaining consent for treatment and intervention	4

ELECTIVE INTERNSHIP - PHYSICAL THERAPY AND REHABILITATION (TIP6115)

A. Internship duration: 15 days (40 hours theoretical, 48 hours practical)

F. Educational objectives, goals, and working principles:

1) Purpose: During the Ophthalmology elective internship, we aim to provide our interns, who have completed their theoretical and practical courses in Semesters V and VI, with the opportunity to actively apply the skills they have acquired.

2) Objective: At the end of this internship, our intern physicians should be able to fully perform the following procedures: know and apply the steps of an eye examination, apply the details of refractive examination and measurements, use devices used in ophthalmology practice, intervene in emergency eye pathologies, perform fundus examinations, prescribe appropriate medications to patients, etc.

3) Working Conditions: Inpatients at our clinic, as well as pre- and post-operative patient evaluations, are conducted in the examination room located in the ward. Routine outpatient clinics continue five days a week in the ophthalmology outpatient clinic on the second floor. Surgical procedures are performed in the operating room by different faculty members five days a week. During the day, especially in the afternoon, fundus fluorescein angiography and laser photocoagulation procedures are performed.

a) Working conditions in the clinic:

-Intern physicians will begin working in the outpatient clinic after completing the morning rounds for inpatients in the ward alongside the ward assistant.

b) Outpatient clinic working rules:

-When you arrive at the outpatient clinic, please write your name and surname on the list at the outpatient clinic secretary's office and sign it. This list will show your internship continuity.

-On the day you arrive at the outpatient clinic, introduce yourself to the relevant faculty member and learn the appropriate work schedule.

-On the day you arrive at the outpatient clinic, you may come to the operating room and observe cases with the approval of the responsible faculty member.

-On Fridays, between 09:00-10:00 a.m., there is an Article/Seminar hour in the outpatient clinic archive room. Interested intern doctors may attend.

F. EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES, TARGETS, AND WORKING PRINCIPLES:

F.1. TEACHING METHODS AND TECHNIQUES

F.1.a. Applied teaching methods

✓ Bedside (ward) education/ Bedside (ward) practical applications

✓ Participation in outpatient services/Outpatient bedside practical applications

✓ On-call bedside education/Bedside practical applications

✓ Teaching staff visits (History taking, file preparation and presentation, interactive discussion, observation)

✓ Operating room applications

✓ Medical record keeping and evaluation practices

F.1.b. Interactive learning activities:

✓ Meetings, panels, group discussions,

✓ Case-based discussion sessions, problem-based education sessions with small groups, critical situation discussions, councils, gamification, structured case discussions,

✓ Reading and commenting on works/articles

F.1.c. Professional skill applications

✓ The minimum number of applications/work required to reinforce the competence acquired in previous training periods in the defined professional skills is determined and ensured for each intern.

F.1.d. Teamwork

F.1.e. Independent learning

✓ Independent study hours

F.1.f. Other Educational Activities

✓ Clinical Case Presentations

✓ Article Presentations

✓ Seminar Presentations

✓ Literature Presentations

G. INTERNSHIP OBJECTIVES

1. The aim is for BAÜN Faculty of Medicine students who choose the Elective Cardiovascular Surgery Internship to remember, reinforce, and understand practical and applied knowledge related to the diagnosis, differential diagnosis, and treatment of surgical diseases of the cardiac and vascular systems.

2. This internship aims to help students understand the principles of approaching cardiovascular emergencies and elective diseases they may encounter in their professional lives after graduation.
- 3 Additionally, the internship aims to develop students' ability to perform necessary interventions and basic procedural techniques in emergency situations.

H. OBJECTIVES OF THE INTERNSHIP:

1. Recognizing and diagnosing diseases requiring emergency cardiovascular surgical intervention in the emergency department.
2. Plan appropriate treatment at the primary care level for cardiovascular problems/diseases and explain referral criteria.
3. Explain cardiovascular emergencies and the principles of approaching these situations.
4. Performing initial intervention for cardiovascular surgical emergencies and referring patients appropriately.
5. Explain the timing of surgical treatment and emergency surgical options.
6. Explain first aid and intervention for vascular trauma patients.
7. Be able to distinguish situations requiring referral in cardiovascular surgery.
8. Ability to explain the mechanisms of disease formation related to cardiovascular surgery.
9. Explain the clinical characteristics and clinical approach principles (diagnosis, treatment, and prevention) of basic diseases related to cardiovascular surgery.
10. Establish good communication with patients and their relatives to obtain the patient's medical history regarding health problems, personal and family history, and the nervous system.
11. Perform a physical examination of the vascular system.
12. Be able to evaluate the patient's medical history and physical examination findings and select the appropriate diagnostic methods/procedures in the correct order to guide diagnosis and treatment.
13. Explain the basic diagnostic methods and procedures used in the diagnosis of cardiovascular diseases and interpret their results.
14. Establish a preliminary diagnosis/diagnosis by evaluating the patient's medical history, physical examination findings, and diagnostic test results.
15. Explain the importance of a multidisciplinary approach to cardiovascular surgery issues.

I. STUDENTS' DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Before clinical/outpatient applications, introduce themselves to the patient, inform them, and perform all medical procedures given by the relevant teaching staff.
2. The attire of prospective physicians in the workplace is appropriate for healthcare professionals.

3. White doctor's coats and/or uniforms must be worn within the hospital.
4. It is important that they carefully fill out their personal internship records during the internship period, have them signed, and submit them to the responsible teaching staff at the end of the internship.
5. During their training, they must fulfill the tasks assigned to them, such as preparing articles, case presentations, and seminars.
6. Interns should not disclose information about the patient's medical condition and progress to the patient, their relatives, or third parties without the knowledge and supervision of the faculty member.
7. They act in accordance with the principles and rules of medical ethics and deontology during their practice.
8. They are familiar with the patient rights regulations and current health legislation and act accordingly.
9. They know the rights of patients and their relatives and act respectfully towards these rights. They keep all medical records relating to patients confidential and ensure that educational discussions relating to these records are conducted in accordance with the principles of confidentiality.
12. They should be aware of the regulations of the Faculty of Medicine, including the Balıkesir University Faculty of Medicine Education, Teaching, and Examination Regulations, and act accordingly.
13. As in all healthcare institutions, they must comply with the rules, regulations, and guidelines of the institution specified below.
 - a. Infection control rules
 - b. Rules regarding medical waste, household waste, and recyclable waste
 - c. Radiation safety rules
 - d. Rules related to employee health
 - e. Patient safety rules
 - f. Rules regarding sample collection, submission, request writing, consent, and similar matters
 - g. Fire and safety precautions
 - h. Ethical and deontological rules

J. WORKING CONDITIONS:

1. Assigned candidate physicians are required to participate in outpatient services, inpatient treatment and follow-up, and surgeries they are invited to during their internship period. They are also required to participate in all academic activities conducted at the BAÜN Department of Cardiovascular Surgery.
2. On Fridays between 9:00-10:30 a.m. during the academic calendar, they attend seminars included in the education program and give a seminar on a topic determined by the department at the end of the internship, selected from among the topics assigned to each internship group.

K. RESOURCES FOR INTERNSHIP ACHIEVEMENTS

1. Current Approaches in Cardiovascular Surgery Mehmet Ali Kaygın, Bilgehan Erkut. Publisher: Akademisyen Kitabevi (February 1, 2020)
Language: Turkish ISBN-10: 6052586540

ELECTIVE INTERNSHIP - MEDICAL GENETICS (TIP6122)

- A. Internship Duration: 15 Days (88 hours of practice)
- B. Training Periods: As indicated in the table at the beginning of the program.
- C. Internship Location: Theoretical classes will be held at our university and at the Department of Medical Genetics, Morphology Building, Balıkesir University . Practical training will be held at the Genetic Diseases Evaluation Center, Morphology Building, Balıkesir University.
- D. Internship Supervisor: Assoc. Prof. Dr. Hilmi BOLAT
- E. Internship Executive Committee Assoc. Prof. Dr. Hilmi BOLAT, Dr. Zeynep ESENER

Faculty Members	Theoretical	Practical
Assoc. Prof. Dr. Hilmi BOLAT	0	36
Dr. Zeynep ESENER	-	36

F. Assessment and Evaluation:

At the end of the internship, students are evaluated through written and oral exams: The written exam consists of multiple-choice and/or traditional questions. Based on the internship grade, the student's status is determined as successful or unsuccessful.

G. Internship Objectives:

- 1- Taking into account the learning objectives specified in the National Core Education Program, to learn the principles of approaching dysmorphic patients, to acquire the ability to relate dysmorphic findings to syndromes, to ensure the learning of the basic characteristics of common genetic diseases,
- 2- To teach the principles of genetic counseling and pedigree charting,
- 3- To teach the methods used in prenatal diagnosis, the indications for these methods, and the evaluation of their risks,
- 4- To inform about cytogenetic and molecular genetic diagnostic methods used in the diagnosis of genetic diseases,
- 5- To ensure that students become evidence-based physicians who possess investigative and inquisitive characteristics, practice their profession well within ethical rules, take a holistic approach to patients and their families, and are able to empathize with them in line with human and professional values.

H. Learning Objectives: At the end of the Medical Genetics internship, sixth-year students will:

- 1- Take prenatal and postnatal histories in patients with dysmorphic features
- 2- Identify major and minor malformations
- 3- Be able to use databases for syndrome diagnosis
- 4- Draw and interpret pedigrees for patients
- 5- Determine the appropriate genetic test for disease diagnosis
- 6- Acquires practical knowledge in DNA extraction from peripheral blood, chromosome analysis, and karyotyping in the laboratory; understands the basic principles of molecular cytogenetics (FISH, array) and molecular analysis
- 7- Learns the principles of prenatal diagnostic methods (amniocentesis, CVS, cordocentesis, PGD, NIPT)
- 8- Learns the process of providing genetic counseling to patients and their families within the framework of genetic counseling principles

I. Medical Genetics Department Internship Course Program (UÇEP Compliance)

Basic Medical Practice List	Learning level
A. History Taking
1. Ability to take a general and problem-oriented history	4
B. General and Problem-Oriented Physical Examination
1. Examination of children and newborns	3
C. Record Keeping, Reporting, and Notification
1. Ability to prepare patient files	4
D. Laboratory Tests and Related Procedures
1. Ability to collect laboratory samples under appropriate conditions and deliver them to the laboratory	4
E. Interventional and Non-Interventional Procedures
1. Ability to create a genogram (family tree)	3
F. Preventive Medicine and Community Health Applications
1. Ability to identify risk groups in the community	3
H. SCREENINGS
1. Pre-marital screening program	4
2. Newborn metabolic and endocrine disease screening program	4

COMPETENCY AREA-1 / Professional Practices

Table: Basic Medical Practice
Ability to take a general and problem-oriented history	4
Ability to request appropriate laboratory and imaging studies	4
Ability to compile scientific data, summarize it using tables and graphs,	3
Ability to analyze scientific data using appropriate methods and interpret the results	3
Ability to plan a research study using scientific principles and methods	2
Accessing current literature and reading it critically	3
Apply evidence-based medicine principles in the clinical decision-making process	3
Identifying risk groups in the community	3
Ability to provide family planning counseling	4

Learning Explanation

Level
1	Knows how to perform the procedure and explains the results to the patient and/or their relatives.
2	Performs the procedure in accordance with the guidelines/instructions in an emergency situation.
3	Performs the procedure* in uncomplicated, commonly encountered situations/cases.
4	Performs the procedure* in complex situations/cases as well.

*Performs preliminary assessment/evaluation, creates necessary plans, implements them, and informs the patient and their family/community about the process and results.

Table. List of symptoms and findings

Anemia
Cognitive impairment/memory loss
Growth and development delay
Balance and movement problems
Skin rashes/lesions (maculopapular, bullous, vesicular)*
Vision impairment/loss*
Movement disorders
Infertility (male, female)
Hearing impairment and tinnitus*

Bleeding tendency
Breast lump
Seizures
Puberty disorders (early-late)
Tremor
